From the Desk of the President ...

As the College of Boca Raton continues to celebrate its 25th Anniversary, I am pleased to report to you that many exciting things are happening. Programs being developed for the near future will provide further building blocks on the way to establishing the College of Boca Raton as the private higher educational institution in Florida.

The College has formed an affiliation with the Harid Conservatory of Music. Our campus will be the site for the Conservatory's performing arts school. Students at Harid will have the opportunity to attend courses at the College and further expand their educational background.

Recently, parents visited their children and shared a slice of collegiate life with them during Parents' Weekend. Hospitality games, sports, mini-colleges, and great food contributed to a most enjoyable weekend. On Friday evening, over 100 students were honored during the academic Honors Convocation in the Lynn Student Center.

The College of Boca Raton's sports programs have been mirroring its academic excellence. Both the men's and women's tennis teams have been working hard to build a reputation as the toughest teams to beat in Florida. Our men's soccer team continues to participate in tournaments and bring home wins. In April, they travel to New Mexico to participate in the World Collegiate Soccer Cup as the 1987 NAIA Champions.

It continues to be an exciting year. We look back with pride on our accomplishments and look ahead to further successes, building upon the traditions that have brought the College to its present stature.

25TH ANNIVERSARY BALL

Mr. and Mrs. Richard P. McCusker

Don Ross and Lucy Henderson Edmondson

The College of Boca Raton welcomed 300 guests to the 25th Anniversary Ball in November. Chaired by Mr. and Mrs. Richard McCusker, the gala evening began with cocktails and hors d'oeuvres in a tent which overlooked one of the College's many lakes. The call to dinner this year was unusual, to say the least - a magnificent fireworks display donated by Zambelli Internationale had the guests spellbound. Guests entered the ballroom by walking under white palm trees decorated with twinkling lights and silver mylar palm fronds. The entire ceiling was covered with hundreds of twinkling lights and silver mylar stars. Lovely art deco centerpieces enhanced the white and silver lame table cloths. The Marshall Grant Orchestra provided dinner and dancing music.

President Ross presented the annual Boca Raton Award to Lucy Henderson Edmondson for her contributions to the cultural and economic development of Boca Raton. Past recipients of the Boca Raton Award are: Eugene Lynn, Charles E. Schmidt, Peter Blum, Ronald and Kathy Assaf, Avery Fonda, and Rolland Ritter.

NEW DEGREE PROGRAM ADDED TO CURRICULUM

A four-year degree program in Tourism and Travel Management has been added to the newly formed Division of Hotel, Restaurant, and Tourism Management chaired by Dr. Ronald A. Usiewicz and will begin in September, 1988. The development and implementation of this major was in response to the explosive growth of tourism, travel, and leisure-time activities. Tourism and travel activities are major natural resources for many nations. Travel patterns often affect the construction of facilities and most states and countries have major programs to expand tourism within their boundaries. Tourism contributes to so many different economic areas that expenditures related to world tourism and travel are expected to approach $650 billion before the end of the century. These figures emphasize the need for expert counselors, consultants, and management professionals in tourism and travel. Career opportunities range from owning and operating a travel agency to management positions within the airline, cruise line, resort, hotel, recreational, and travel industries. Due to the diversity of tourism and travel careers, employment possibilities are abundant in the United States and abroad, from small towns to major cities and from exotic seashores to ski country.

APPRECIATION RECEPTION

President and Mrs. Ross hosted a reception for benefactors and friends of the College. Several of the guests were with the College since its inception including Sr. Joques Egan, who was the first president of the College. The reception was a black-tie affair to express appreciation to those people who were instrumental in helping the College reach the milestone of celebrating 25 years of excellence in higher education.

"It is always a privilege and a pleasure to entertain special people on our campus. It is especially so as we celebrate our 25th Anniversary and our entry into the educational sphere of the 21st Century," said President Ross.

SENIOR PROFILES

Derek Backman, South Africa

Soccer scholarship; Hotel/Restaurant Management Major; graduating in May, 1988, with B.S.; honor student for two semesters; captain of the soccer team for four years; conducts clinics for coaching junior soccer teams in Boca Raton; pursuing a professional career in soccer and business.

"When looking back on my four years at CBR, I can honestly say that I made the right decision. Using my soccer ability to help me through my studies has given me a chance to mature as a player, and as a person. All the different people I've met that have come and gone in the four years I've spent here, have taught me a lot about 'people' - how to read and handle so many different types has been an experience, and has educated me on how to treat and handle people the correct way. Learning to live with others is one of the most important things in life today."

Susan Belizaire, Boca Raton

Susan was born in England. She grew up in Cypress and her family currently lives in Antigua. She is a quiet but powerful presence on campus. Susan is a Computer Science major with an interest in continuing in that field after she graduates in May.

She has been very active in the Knights of the Roundtable helping with everything from registration to Parents' Weekend. She also participates in many of the College sponsored events, such as the fall carnival and various theme parties.

What are her plans for the immediate future? Susan tells us that she likes Boca Raton and plans to live here for a while providing she can find employment. That shouldn't be too difficult for someone as accomplished as Susan Belizaire.
